

Estimated Periodontal Expenditure as a Share of Total Dental Spending

Across countries, periodontal expenditure forms a reasonable proportion of total dental spending, increasing with dental expenditure per capita, supporting the plausibility of the estimation model

